Church Notes.

Anand S. Hiwale of Bombay spoke at the North church Sunday school last Sunday and gave the address at the evening service. Mr. Hiwale speaks English very easily and gave a most interesting description of life among the teeming millions in that great country. At the evening service he dressed in costume and also sang in his native tongue. Mr. Hiwale will be one of the speakers at the meeting of the American Board at North Adams, Mass., next month.

It is expected that Mrs. J. H. Heald, one of the missionaries from New Mexico, will speak at the North church, Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The North and South church ladies are interested in her work through correspondence with her. It is hoped the chapel will be well filled.

At the Church of the Messiah next Sunday, the pastor will preach on the topic: "Go and Do."

The Woman's association of the North church have appointed Mrs. C. W. Farr and Mrs. Elmer Gaskill as delegates to attend the meeting of the Vermont Branch, which will be held in Swanton, Wednesday, Sept. 26. Alternates, Miss Alice Warden and Miss Grace Switzer.

Rev. Edward S. Tead, corresponding secretary of the Congregational Education society, will be here Sunday and preach at the North church, Sunday evening.

At the vesper service Sunday and for several Sundays following, the rector of St. Andrew's church will deliver a series of addresses. The title of the series will be "Some Modern Substitutes for Religion." Sept. 23. The first of the series will be "The Question stated or What are we asked to give up." Sept. 31. "An Inquiry" what is Theosophy? Oct. 7. "Christian Science, What is it?" Oct. 14. Address of interesting character will follow.

The fourth sermon-lecture at Grace Methodist church in the series on Summer Experiences will be given Sunday evening on "The Mission of the Rivers." Sunday, Sept. 30. The title of the series will be "Some Modern Substitutes for Religion." Sept. 23. The first of the series will be "The Question stated or What are we asked to give up." Sept. 31. "An Inquiry" what is Theosophy? Oct. 7. "Christian Science, What is it?" Oct. 14. Address of interesting character will follow.

At the North church last Sunday morning Dr. Eaton preached a strong sermon on the value of Bible study. Next Sunday will be devoted to a Sunday school rally.

At the First Baptist church a Sunday school rally will be held, with a special sermon by the pastor, followed by interesting exercises in the Sunday school.

First Church of Christ, Scientist, Odd Fellows block, Sunday morning service, 10.45. Subject, "Unreality." Children's Sunday school will follow the morning service. Wednesday evening meeting at 7.30. The reading room is open daily except Sunday from 2.30 to 5 p. m. Christian Science literature always on hand.

Caledonia County Rally.

Sometimes a call to help may be allowed to wait, but there are others demanding immediate attention. Such an imperative request came to the Boston office of the Congregational Education Society from Barrington, New Mexico, for a new schoolhouse, the present building being unfit for further use. In the interests of this work the young people of Vermont have offered to donate sufficient funds to erect this new building, which is to be called the Vermont school. It is impossible to weigh the beneficial influences of such a wise expenditure of money. The bright eyed Mexican children look forward to the schoolhouse with an eagerness that a "Yankee" boy or girl cannot understand, and the hours spent with our teachers are the happiest of their lives. Here they receive the first ideas of the religion of Jesus. Here they learn of the great civilized world lying far beyond their mesas and canyons, through the stories of their teachers. Here they learn the history of the United States, and the simple Christian virtues which they never forget and are the leaven of the Gospel which in time will permeate and transform the Mexican population of our great territories.

Surely the Christian young people of grand old Vermont could do no better work than help bring their Mexican friends into the religious heritage of light and culture, which has so long blessed dear old New England and the nations of the earth. This foreign country in the midst of the United States is worthy of your self-sacrifice, gifts and prayers.

For the purpose of further interesting the young people in this work, rallies are to be held throughout the state with Secretary Edward S. Tead of the Education Society and Secretary George H. Guttererson of the A. M. A. as speakers. These two gentlemen having travelled in the by-ways and unfrequented sections of our land are able to give valuable and interesting information not usually heard in addresses of this character.

The rally for Caledonia county will be held in the South church, Monday, Sept. 24, at 4.30 and at 7.45 in the evening. We would urge the leaders of the young people's societies to attend the rally, as we are assured that it will be of great interest.

ST. JOHNSBURY CENTER.

William Beane, who has been at Barton all summer, has returned home. He has been running a ten cent team and this week he will run a team back and forth to the fair.

Miss Nina Campbell has been engaged to play for A. L. Bailey at the St. Johnsbury fair.

Those who attended the Sunday school convention at Passumpsic from here were, Rev. Mrs. Woodruff and daughter, Mrs. Charlie Farr, Mrs. Diantha Stone, Mrs. A. N. Drew, Miss Gertrude Franklin, Miss Berry and Miss McLaughlin. Reports of the convention were given Sunday by Mrs. A. N. Drew and Miss McLaughlin.

Mr. and Mrs. Bert Farnham and family and Mr. and Mrs. James Lockwood spent Sunday with Mrs. Lockwood's sister, Mrs. Silas Chickering at West Burke.

Mrs. Smith Emerson visited friends at Barton and Danville last of the week. Mr. and Mrs. Eastman of Lyndonville spent Sunday with his son here.

Miss Gertrude Franklin and Miss Maud Berry were chosen as delegates to attend the Christian Endeavor rally at St. Johnsbury next Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Hunt of Canada are visiting Mr. and Mrs. Smith Emerson this week.

Mrs. Mary Fletcher of Lyndonville, Mrs. Houston Howe, Mrs. A. L. Bailey, Mrs. Lucy Jackson of St. Johnsbury and Mrs. Elvira Robertson of Chicago, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Jonathan Huntley last week.

Miss Irena Hallett was taken seriously ill last Tuesday, which developed into appendicitis. Her many friends are anxious for a speedy recovery.

Miss Mary Woodruff, who has been here for several weeks has returned to New York, where she will enter a private hospital as nurse. Her mother, Rev. Mrs. Woodruff went with her and will be gone about three weeks on a vacation.

Dorothy Farnham was unable to attend school the first of the week on account of sickness.

Mrs. A. M. Bradley of Lyndon has returned to Mr. Hallows's. Mrs. Hallows remains about the same.

Philip Franklin is staying at Charlie Benedict's during the fall and going to school.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. McLaughlin spent Sunday at his home, with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William McLaughlin.

Mrs. Winfield Williams and daughter of Bradford is visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Sargent.

Miss Grace Franklin spent Sunday with her mother, Mrs. Franklin.

Improvements are being made on the dam.

Presiding Elder Lewis will preach next Sunday. The baptism of children will be administered in the Methodist church.

Shepard Pomona Grange will meet at St. Johnsbury Center in Wide Awake Grange hall, Sept. 26, at 8 p. m. Refreshments will be served after the meeting.

Alphonse Dumas offers at auction Monday at the Delworth farm 20 cows, 20 yearlings, two mares and a small yoke of oxen. M. M. Taplin of Barton is the auctioneer.

East St. Johnsbury.

Dwight Streeter has moved to St. Johnsbury.

Miss Charlotte Morrill has returned to Brooklyn.

Henry Sweet was arrested last week for disturbing the peace. He pleaded guilty and paid his fine.

J. A. Ramage of Boston is spending a few days at his home here.

As several of the teams containing men, who work at Fairbanks Scale factory were returning home Tuesday night, they met Joseph St. Jock in his automobile just as they were about to enter the bridge near the village. As the auto was coming directly in the middle of the bridge the first team drove into a farm road, which fortunately was at hand. Ira Harvey, who was driving the second team, attempted to follow but his horse became unmanageable and he was thrown to the ground. He struck on his head and was for some time insensible, but his injuries did not prove serious and he has recovered.

School Notes.

All of the public schools opened last week with a good attendance. The total enrollment is approximately 880, of which number 340 are in attendance at the Summer Street school, 275 in Summerville, and the rest in the smaller schools.

The school at Pierce's Mill has been reopened this fall, after being closed for four years. Miss Dorothy E. Logan of Andover, Mass., is the teacher.

A 20-inch bell has been purchased by the directors for the East Village school, and it will be hung in the tower this week.

The scholars are given today as a holiday, to enable all who wish to attend the Caledonia County fair.

'THE COUNTY FAIR.

Concord, N. H., enters a herd of 21, and W. H. Neil of Meredith, N. H., has 22 in his herd.

C. B. Stevens of North Danville has three head of Ayrshires and the Holsteins include one entry by Henry E. Wilson, several entries by Leonard Penniman, and a herd of 11 from George C. Cary's farm. In the latter's exhibit is an imported cow from Holland, and an imported bull calf.

Horses.

J. C. Gray, superintendent in this department, is authority for the statement that there are more horses entered in this department than ever before. The entries in drivers, matched pairs and brood mares with colts are especially large and all attendants today at the fair will see some fine stock being judged. There are a lot of good trotting horses here besides those entered for premiums and there are 21 trotters entered at the St. Johnsbury fair that were not shown at the Barton fair. C. M. Darling of Lyndonville enters Red Elm and C. L. Lee of Lyndonville, shows a fine matched pair of bays, and one trotting horse, Russell Gratton, entered in the 2.19 class. F. J. Tretten of Lyndon shows Count Axworthy, by Axworthy, by Astell, the $105.00 stallion and the first 3-year-old to trot in the 2.12 class. Count Axworthy's dam is by Lucy Wilton, by Wilton, the famous sire of 2.10 trotters. E. H. Hoffman, also of Lyndon, shows Billy Roberts, by Mountaineer, a 3-year-old stallion; by Billy Roberts; a 2-year-old stallion; a 2-year-old filly and four brood mares with their colts. Mabel Hall Walter, also of Lyndon, enters a matched pair of dark chestnut drivers by Billy Roberts and a brood mare and colt by the same stallion. Emmet Hill of Concord shows his stallion Cardinal Wilkes; John Edney of Concord, a 3-year-old filly by this stallion; H. E. Pease of Concord, a 3-year-old gelding by this stallion; Mr. Williams of Waterford, a 3-year-old filly by Cardinal Wilkes and a pair of matched drivers by Jesuit. H. L. Doyle has a finely bred family of Morgans, C. B. Morse of Danville is here again with a pair of drivers, Silas Burbank has an entry deserving of a blue ribbon and there are many other creditable entries that we were unable to get in our examination of the department yesterday.

Wool and Mutton.

The sheep are all right—a wonderful showing of them. B. B. Morrill of Stanstead, Que., leads in this department, exhibiting a head of 45, consisting of Leicester sheep, Oxford Downs, Hampshire, Cotswolds, and Angora goats. They are a very pretty flock and just as valuable as they are handsome. Herbert Kilton of East Montpelier shows a pretty flock of 20 shropshires, and W. H. Neal of Meredith also has a very good exhibit.

The pen containing the Angora Goats received much attention, and they are very pretty animals. Many goats are being shipped into New England, of late from the northwest and this industry is sure of success for as a rule Angora goat wool is worth three times that of sheep's wool.

The Swine Exhibit.

The swine exhibit is not as large as last year—still it is a very fine show. William Neal of Meredith, N. H., shows seven large Chester whites, and two litters of pigs of the same breed are attracting considerable attention.

F. R. Sanborn of Bristol, N. H., and F. R. Grace of Laconia, each have a very good exhibit of Berkshire, Belted Hamshires and Chester whites. One of the latter number is a perfect monster, and it is said, this scale at 600 pounds.

If the pens were filled up the swine department would prove one of the most interesting places on the grounds.

Poultry.

With over 400 entries in this department it is easy to believe that this fair easily surpasses all others in the number of exhibits. Over one-fourth of this number are entered by Wood and Freeman of Fitchburg, Mass., Ira H. Grant of Lyndonville has 55 entries, L. M. Blodgett & Co. of West Burke 20, the Daniels Poultry Company of St. Johnsbury 40, D. A. Langmaid, North Danville, 40, Fred Parsons of St. Johnsbury 23, E. Denault of Sherbrook 45, and a number of entries of about 12 varieties from many other exhibitors.

Fruits and Vegetables.

Secretary Bralley made a special effort to increase the exhibits in this department, and the farmers responded nobly to the increased premiums. The upper part of Floral Hall is well filled with exhibits, and there are so many entries that some of the exhibits are attractively arranged in the lower part of the building. One of the largest exhibitors is A. B. Pringle of St. Johnsbury Centre, whose exhibit is in the southern part of the hall. He is a veteran in the raising of fruits and vegetables, and first prizes are sure to be found in his collection, which is both large and varied. J. S. Bandy, whose large exhibits from his East Barret farm have been much admired in years past, only shows this year a collection of apples. There are 25 varieties in his collection, including the best known fall and winter apples. A collection of 25 varieties of apples is also shown by Charles J. Bell, not the Governor, but another successful farmer, of Hollis, N. H. M. C. Blodgett has a creditable collection of vegetables, at the north entrance of the building, including pumpkins, tomatoes, yellow pear tomatoes, squashes, etc. Robert Armstrong has one of the finest sheaf of timothy ever exhibited. The grass is 5½ feet tall, and was raised in Danville. The most attractively arranged exhibit of vegetables is that from Wayside Farm, the new home of George M. Gray, J. S. Bandy has been the gardener at this farm, and his skill in decorating the booth is everywhere in evidence. One of the most noticeable exhibits are stalks of fodder corn. These are over 14 feet tall and are the Leming silo corn. The parsley is the finest ever shown at our fair, and the other vegetables show the result of careful cultivation and artistic arrangement.

Flowers and Plants.

While not a separate department the interest in this part of the exhibit has been greatly stimulated by more premiums and a recognition of the wild as well as cultivated flowers. James Burns has a large florist's display near the centre of the hall which has been most artistically arranged. Mrs. Luma A. Ladd has an attractive exhibit of cut flowers, including several vases of pretty wild flowers, and Richard Gibson has a large collection of cut flowers.

Mechanical Wares.

These are found in their accustomed place adjoining Floral Hall and by far the largest exhibitor is Representative Carr. He handles the products of the International Harvester Company.

This concern handles the products of the following well known plants, McCormick, Deering, Champion, Plano, Milwaukee, Osborne, Keystone, and these outside companies, the Worcester, Buckley, Adriance-Platt and Cambridge. Mr. Carr is the distributing agent for this section and B. H. Allen is the travelling salesman for this concern. In this exhibit are several gasoline engines, manure spreaders, sulky plows, side delivery rakes, mowing machines, hay tedders, and many other products of the combination. Bundy & Weeks show two sleighs, a cushion tired wagon, a beautiful Bailey wagon, valued at $200, two other carriages, harnesses, robes, etc. The Lilly Wagon Co. of Morrisville exhibit a large working wagon.

The separator firms are well represented. The Vermont Farm Machine Company show the United States, and the DeLaval and the Sharples is also shown by their respective agents. S. B. Church & Co. of Boston exhibit air cooled engines; the Stoddard Mfg. Co. of Rutland show cream separators and gasoline engines; the Leader Evaporator Company of Burlington have a sugar evaporator and G. H. Grimm of Rutland another evaporator. A. W. Gray's company of Middlebury Springs show a drag rake and gasoline engines; Browne & Wright of St. Johnsbury, gas engines and band saws in operation; Philo Motor Company of Sandusky exhibit gasoline engines, and Charles N. Howe of Walden shows white bronze monumental work. A. W. Richardson, Rochester, N. H., shows chassis and E. T. & H. K. Ide have a fine exhibit in a tent of Schumacher's stock food, and molasses, dairy and horse feeds.

In Floral Hall.

The regular attendant at the fair will miss the miscellaneous exhibit in Floral Hall known as household articles and in their place much of the space has been taken by our enterprising merchants to exhibit their wares. Of course one looks in the center of the hall for A. L. Bailey's piano exhibit and he will not look in vain. William McLaughlin is in charge of the exhibit and it includes a Poole, Bailey and Cable piano and another Bailey piano with the piano player combined. Miss Nina Campbell of St. Johnsbury Centre will preside at the pianos during the fair and the old adage is again exemplified, "Music hath its charms; Bailey hath the instruments." A new exhibitor is the firm of Randall & Whitcomb, who have arranged a most attractive booth in red and white to exhibit the Waterman fountain pens with a goodly assortment of these pens in their exhibit. Opposite this booth is the artistic booth of E. L. Hunt & Co., where furs, dress goods and patterns are well displayed. C. H. Clark, the photographer, has a large line of pictures of all sizes, and adjoining his booth is the exhibit of the St. Johnsbury Gas Company. Gluewood ranges are shown in the rear of the hall by Henry J. Goodrich. J. J. Ashton has about 50 birds, including parakeets, parrots, German canaries, Japanese nuns and sparrows and African cutthroats. Follensby & Peck, whose newspaper advertising campaign have resulted in such large sales of the Colonial paint, have a fine exhibit of this brand in charge of F. C. Charlot, and adjoining this booth is the exhibit of Fairbanks scales by John O. Hale, who celebrates this fall his 30th year as salesman for this corporation and the 20th year that he has exhibited scales at the county fair. The Sharples tubular separator is also exhibited in Floral Hall, while near this exhibit is the De Laval separator and the booth of the Worcester Salt Company.

The Children's Department.

There will always be, it is hoped, a growing interest in this department, and the children of the county have responded fairly well to the invitation to show their products of the soil and the skill of their hands. There are nearly 100 entries in this department and they represent the interest in our fair of those who will soon be the mainstay of the yearly exhibitions.

Troop G.

One of the features of the Fair is Troop G in a thrilling bare-back drill under command of Lieut. Von Leer. The troop is one of the best and their performance alone is worth the admission price.

Many of the men have seen foreign service. Six have been back from the Philippines less than two months. Trooper Miller, one of the finest bare-back riders in the country, and who was with the Barnum Bailey shows until about a year ago, was quite seriously hurt while drilling at Sherbrooke last week. In attempting to jump four horses which were running abreast he was thrown under their feet. He was taken to a hospital, but has so far recovered that he has been taken back to Port Ethan Allen.

The troop leave here Friday for Woodstock.

The Races.

There was only one race yesterday, the green country race. Oceana, owned by Chas. I. Churchill of Sanbornville, N. H., won this in straight heats. In only one heat was the winner hard pushed and that was by Mr. Bacon's Vermont Elm. Following is the score:

GREEN COUNTRY RACE, PURSE $100.00.

Oceana, b. m., Churchill, 1 1 1
Vermont Elm, b. s., Bacon, 2 2 2
Clover, b. m., McGinnis, 3 4 4
Myrtle, blk. g., Delworth, 4 3 6
McDonald, ch. g., Richardson, 5 5 3
Richard Stanford, b. g., Lamb, 6 6 5
Time, 2.39½, 2.34½, 2.34½.

Hiawatha at the Antheneum.

The Ojibwa Indians have produced a drama of Hiawatha which they perform at Desbarats, Ontario. Seventy-two fresh photographs of the scenes and characters are on exhibition till Sept. 24, at the Antheneum Art gallery.

Randall-Tousley.

A wedding which will be of interest to many people here, took place at Burlington, Sept. 5, when Miss J. Blanche Tousley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Tousley, was united in marriage to Roy D. Randall of New York. The ceremony took place at eight o'clock in the Baptist church. The church had been trimmed for the occasion by the young people, with palms, asparagus, and hydrangeas. A mass of flowers and foliage completely hid the pulpit and the centre aisle was lined with hydrangeas.

Promptly at eight o'clock the bride, leaning on the arm of her father, preceded by two ushers, and the maid of honor, Miss Bessie L. May of Malone, N. Y., passed under an arch of evergreen boughs, and entered the church. At the entrance to the auditorium and up the centre aisle to the strains of the bridal march from Lohengrin. At the altar they were met by the groom and his best man, Asa Randall, of Richmond, and the ceremony was performed by Rev. F. D. Penney. They then left the church to Mendelssohn's wedding march, Harold Huntley presiding at the organ.

The bride was gowned in white ecollene over white tulle, cut princess style. Her veil was bound by orange blossoms and she carried white roses. The maid of honor wore a creation of white with a green girdle and carried carnations. The ushers were C. A. Davis of St. Albans, Henry H. Lawson of Rutland, F. M. Spear and L. E. Humphrey of Burlington.

A reception at the home of the bride followed the wedding. The house was trimmed with vines and cut flowers. Two cousins of the bride, Miss Anna Lawson, of Rutland, and Miss Ethel Aldrich of Keeseville, N. Y., served dainty refreshments. A fine display of gifts included a collection of silver from the ladies of the Baptist church.

Both young people are quite well known in Burlington and St. Johnsbury. The groom formerly lived in Burlington and they are both graduates from the local high school in the class of 1902. Mr. Randall has been in New York for the past two years, where he is employed in court reporting. After a short wedding trip they will take up their residence in New York.

Midshipman Fuller's Cruise.

Midshipman H. G. Fuller, who was appointed to the Naval Academy from this Congressional district, and who is the step-son of Ellis W. Moore, was assigned upon his graduation, to the U. S. S. Colorado. The Colorado is one of the four finest cruisers in the Navy and recently took part in the great naval review at Oyster Bay. This cruiser squadron, composed of the West Virginia, Colorado, Pennsylvania and Maryland left Newport, September 8, to race across the Atlantic for a test of boilers. The first stop will be at Gibraltar and they are expected to cover the distance of 3000 miles in ten days.

At Gibraltar the officers and men of the squadron will be entertained by Rear Admiral Prince Louis, of Battenberg, the commander of the British second cruiser squadron. This is in return for the lavish hospitalities shown to the Prince when he visited the metropolis. The squadron will then proceed to the Asiatic station and it is expected to remain in the Orient three years.

Crawford Notch Excursion Sept. 28th.

Reduced Rates via Boston & Maine R. R. On September 28th the Boston & Maine R. R. will run its annual excursion to the White Mountains, to the wonderful Crawford Notch, that most interesting of all sections of the White Mountains. The Crawford Notch is a wonderful work of nature, an immense delicate hollowed out between the mountain ranges. At this season of the year the mountains, clad in their autumnal foliage, present a beautiful sight, and the train ride along the valley through this magnificent stretch of scenic landscape is indeed beautiful. On the above date round trip tickets at the very low rate of $1.75, which is even twenty-five cents lower than the excursion rate of last year, will be on sale at Stanstead, Rock Island and Derby Line. Stanstead Junction, Newport, Vt., Coventry, Barton Landing, Barton, South Barton, Sutton, West Burke, Lyndonville, Lyndon, St. Johnsbury Centre, St. Johnsbury, Passumpsic, East Barret, Barret, McIndoes, Ryegate and the rate from Wells River will be twenty-five cents less; which is $1.50. Special train will leave Stanstead at 6.20 a. m. Returning, leave Bartlett at 3.00 p. m. For detailed time of special train at these stations, see Boston & Maine posters or inquire of Agent.

At Fairbanks Village.

Mrs. Henry Robinson left for her new home in Amesbury, Friday.

Mrs. Sunk and daughter, Mrs. Durgin, moved from their tenement on Orchard street to the tenement on High street vacated by Mr. Ainsworth.

Annual Excursion to New York.

The Central Vermont Railway announce their annual excursion Tuesday, Sept. 25. Those in this section can take the train from White River Junction at 2.50 p. m., the round trip costing only $6. This is one of the best times in all the year to visit New York and many new attractions are offered this season, including lovers of base ball to witness the national and American League games, theatrical amusements and sight seeing. The train will arrive at New London at 10 p. m., where the party will take the steamer "City of Lowell" to New York, reaching there at 7 in the morning. This steamer is one of the finest on the Sound.

A Funny Incident.

When Senator Wolcott first went to Colorado he and his brother opened a law office at Idaho Springs under the firm name of "Ed Wolcott & Bro." Later the partnership was dissolved. The future senator packed his few assets, including the sign that had hung outside of his office, upon a burro and started for Georgetown, a mining town further up in the hills. Upon his arrival he was greeted by a crowd of miners who critically surveyed him and his outfit. One of them looking first at the sign that hung over the pack, then at Wolcott and finally at the donkey ventured, "Say, stranger, which of you is Ed?"

St. Johnsbury Academy.

SIXTY-FOURTH YEAR.

Fall Term Opens Sept. 4, '08.

The Trustees have had the good fortune to secure for Principal Prof. Clark F. Howland, recently of Emory College, Mo., who has had large experience and eminent success at the head of Academies both in New England and the West.

There are three regular courses Classical, Liberal, Commercial, and twelve competent instructors.
